

TOLN TEETH ARE DUG UP IN CHURCHYARD

Detectives Hunt Solves Mystery of Many Robberies of Dentists

30 WITHIN TWO WEEKS

Three Negroes Arrested Tell How Gold in "Fillings"

Lured Them.

Two men with lanterns crept into the yard of the M. E. Church in Fleet street near De Kalb avenue, Brooklyn, before daylight this morning. A few early pedestrians stopped to watch the unusual proceeding, but no one interfered.

The strangers dug around in the grass for a time, and then went outside to some pipes up against the church fence. They poked around some more and were soon rewarded. Neatly buried against the pipes was a paper containing real gold—and many teeth of assorted sizes. The diggers chuckled, brushed the dirt off the treasure and carried it to the Adams street police station—for they were detectives.

Then it was announced at the station that the mystery of about thirty burglaries in Fulton street and Flatbush avenue within the past two weeks had been cleared. Detectives who have molar displays in glass cases have been the sufferers, and never before were there so many loose teeth about the Adams street headquarters.

Complaints had been so frequent that Detectives Conlon and Duane were detailed to watch for the thieves. Early today two young negroes were seen dodging in and out of doorways in De Kalb avenue. Policemen Hoffman and Meyer nabbed them in front of No. 29 and found both had a lot of assorted teeth in their pockets.

At the station house the prisoners gave their names as Kenneth Quinn and William Porter, seventeen years old, of No. 29 Chapel street. The police say they do not live there, and that the prisoners admitted they had pulled off most of the burglaries recently. They also admitted that John Bird, eighteen, of No. 29 Fleet street, helped them and ought to come and take his medicine with them.

WON'T GO TO CHURCHYARD

CACHE, NO, SAHI

The detectives went to the Fleet street house and, after lighting a six-foot negro for admittance, they found Bird in the cellar. In his pocket was a "bag" of teeth. They say he admitted his part in the thefts and gave them several parrotbeaks.

"Where's the rest of the aw?" the detective asked him.

"Do shu'ch'd fene," he replied. And he described the Fleet street church.

"Come show us," suggested one of the detectives.

"Not me, mizah; not me," objected Bird. "Ise willin' to be beat up an' sent to jail, but I ain't goin' near no churchyard in de da'k. You white folks 'it hab to go get dat stuff y'ose."

He described where it was and the detectives after doing considerable digging, found it. It consisted of gold used by dentists in filling teeth and of teeth of all shapes and sizes. It is estimated to be worth about $50. The police have received about $200 worth of goods supposed to have been taken by the trio and expect to find more of it to-day. They say Quinn and Porter have Hart's Island records, but they don't know Bird.

COURT SAYS POOR MAN

SHOULD NOT OWN DOG.

Canines, Rules Magistrate Murphy.

Are Luxuries for the Rich Only.

According to Magistrate Murphy, in the Harlem Police Court, no poor man has a right to own a dog, even a yellow pup. Dogs are a luxury and are for the rich only. In the judicial mind of Magistrate Murphy there is no dog in Harlem worth eleven dollars, either.

James Heller of No. 42 East Seventy-seventh street, was up before His Honor, haled there by Agent Duane of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Heller has a dog, a little water spaniel called Lion, who is his sole companion. He had not paid a license on the dog because he hadn't the money. Agent Duane asked for a continuance of the case until the 26th, by which time he thought Heller would have the money to pay the license. Heller told the court that he had owned Lion for ten years and had paid all in license for him. It was that statement that brought forth the remarks of Magistrate Murphy as he postponed the case.

MAN DIES OF GAS BESIDE PICTURE OF WIFE AND CHILD

Hodkinson, Alone After Domestic Trouble, Commits Suicide in Flat.

Surrounded with photographs of his wife and little girl, Arthur Hodkinson, a real estate man and agent for the Greylock Court Apartments, Boston Road and One Hundred and Sixty-eighth street, committed suicide early to-day by inhaling gas in his apartment.

A woman living in the apartment above Hodkinson's smelled gas about 4 o'clock and telephoned the operator downtown, who called Policeman Maloy of the Morrisania station. The door of the man's room was forced, and he was found dead in bed with a gas tube in his mouth. He had been dead about two hours, Dr. Shanekin of the Lebanon Hospital said.

According to information obtained by the police, Hodkinson and his wife had some trouble that caused her to leave him. She was understood to have been supporting herself for the past month or two by working in a downtown department store. Meantime the little girl has been living with a family across the street, and Hodkinson was the only person occupying his apartment.

He left three sealed letters, which evidently he spent most of the night at his desk writing. One was to "Mrs. Hodkinson," his wife, care of the lunch counter of a department store, where it is understood she works; another to Mrs. W. Wilkie, across the street, who has been taking care of Dorothy, his seven-year-old daughter, and the third to Milton Silverman, his employer. His reason for ending his life will not be known until the letters are opened.

Hodkinson had been working as agent and collector for the apartment houses owned by the Silverman estate. The Coroner found that only one room of his suite was furnished, and he was preparing to give up the apartment.

At the station house the prisoners gave their names as Kenneth Quinn and William Porter, seventeen years old, of No. 29 Chapel street. The police say they do not live there, and that the prisoners admitted they had pulled off most of the burglaries recently. They also admitted that John Bird, eighteen, of No. 29 Fleet street, helped them and ought to come and take his medicine with them.

A Sale of Ostrich Plumes

Wherein $1 to $1.50 Can Be Saved on Each Plume

First of all, we were fortunate in procuring 396 black and white plumes, which were a manufacturer's surplus. But, as we could not think of having a sale without Plumes in the new colors, we asked another manufacturer to co-operate with us for this event—and he did, by making each of these plumes an inch longer, and then we sacrificed a part of our profit—So these are the reasons why we can present these beautiful French curl Ostrich Plumes at these abnormally low prices:
